ABOUT

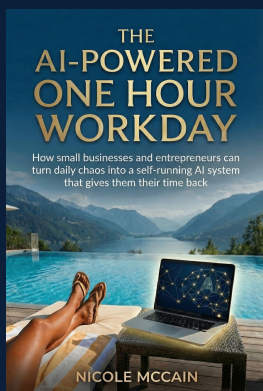

A clarity-first voice on human-centered AI.

Nicole McCain is an AI strategist, speaker, AI Workforce Readiness Trainer, and founder of the 5 Million Women AI Initiative. She helps organizations, women-led businesses, and growing teams adopt AI without chaos, wasted spend, or losing the human touch.

With more than 20 years leading multi-million-dollar technology initiatives for Fortune 500 companies such as JP Morgan and BlackRock, Nicole helps organizations build human-centered AI approaches, operating systems, and training programs that save time, reduce decision fatigue, and protect decision quality.

She speaks and consults on human-centered AI strategy, the AI-powered one-hour workday, and what it takes to bring more women to the table in shaping the use and impact of AI.

WHAT CLIENTS SAY

Testimonials

"Nicole is one of the most impactful AI trainers we have brought in. Her sessions gave our team the confidence, structure, and practical tools we needed to actually use AI in our work, not just talk about it."

- Holger

"Nicole delivers with clarity, depth, and real business experience. She helped our leaders understand where AI fits, where it does not, and how to protect judgment and quality along the way."

"Nicole made AI feel accessible and safe. Her workshop gave our team a shared language and a clear path to start using AI without breaking anything."

- Jan

"Before working with Nicole, I was really skeptical and even a little afraid of AI. Now I'm on track to fully automate key areas of my business and for the first time I feel excited and equipped to grow with AI."

- Daisy

"Nicole, I'm still buzzing from your masterclass. You absolutely over-delivered. Not just with the incredible content, but those bonus resources were pure gold."

- Rosley

"Nicole is a rare voice in the AI space. She combines deep enterprise experience with real empathy for small business owners and women-led teams learning this for the first time."

- Taneya
